Help our students build, code, and compete

The Seven Oaks Robotics Club is a FIRST LEGO League Challenge team for students in grades 4–8. Members collaborate to build and program robots to complete missions, research real-world problems and develop innovative solutions for their innovation project, and learn to support and encourage one another through it all.

What we do

We meet every Friday from September until competitions are over. At FIRST LEGO League events the team competes in timed robot game matches and presents its innovation project to a panel of judges. Judges also look at robot design and how well the team lives out the FIRST core values: discovery, innovation, impact, inclusion, teamwork, and fun.

What your support pays for

- FIRST LEGO League team registration
- The season's challenge set (the mission models the robot practices on)
- Robot parts: motors, sensors, batteries, and spares
- Local competition entry fees
- Innovation project materials
- Team shirts, travel, and food on competition days
